The next technological advancement that will assist police officers would have to be compact/portable facial recognition devices on police officers. Equipped onto the body or helmet of an officer will allow for a facial recognition scan onto the person being pulled over or stopped. This will allow for instantaneous feed back of the person searching for warrants or simply documenting the persons information. This will allow for quicker traffic stops and or recognize a threat. All of it should be displayed in real time through a pair of lenses placed on the officers least proficient eye. It will also start your police report with names , locations ,date and times.

Hello professor !
Just confirming no class tomorrow ? And also when is our final ? Would it be Tuesday the 14th? Or Thursday the 16th?

Hello professor!
I'm Fernando Rivera in your 7:00am-8:15am class
I was wondering What assignments are you referring to? Is it just our paper ? Or were there others i had missed?
Thank you for your time

As discussed in class Blackboard will open on 5/2 and 5/9 and remain open for two days to allow you to complete the assignments.
Please email your responses.
Thanks you,
L.D. Martin
